

It's an Artist Call!

Submission deadline: October 11th (midnight) Apply today!

Steinfeld Gallery is pleased to announce Sutured Reality, an exhibition that invites artists to explore the seams, the places where separate things are forcibly joined, repaired, or held together. A suture is both a medical act of healing and a visible scar; it closes a wound without erasing it. The title asks: what realities have been stitched together, and what do the stitches reveal?
